

THE ROLE OF NONGOVERNMENTAL ORGANISATIONS AND CIVIL SOCIETY ORGANISATIONS IN STRENGTHENING THE LINKAGES

Introduction:

The objective of the Civil Society in agriculture is to alleviate and eradicate poverty and hunger at household level through increased crop, livestock production, productivity and income. The objective is implemented through networking and advocacy to influence change of government, NGO, private sector and development partners' policies, practice and attitude.

The non state actors address nutrition and health through the promotion of agricultural livelihood interventions such as crop and livestock diversification in agriculture, income generation and policy influence.
